

“How to know if you’re a good lover”

Undeniable signs she’s really enjoying sex with you

A woman can have an orgasm - and still not enjoy herself!

It takes more for a woman to truly feel satisfied in bed. It isn't just about physical pleasure.

This is why the 3 top signs are so important.

Let's recap them:

- 1. She initiates sex (often!)
- 2. She wants to cuddle and talk after sex
- 3. She has that glow, and feels satisfied and relaxed in her daily life

Here are even more signs that she is truly enjoying herself:

- 1. Her vaginal tissue is soft (this shows she is fully relaxed, meaning she feels safe and her body is receiving what it needs)
- 2. She has multiple and/on full body orgasms (these are deeper orgasms, when her body pulls the energy inwards)
- 3. Her nipples are hard (it's a common physical reaction to arousal/orgasm)

4. She experiences emotional/energy releases during sex (such as: shaking, crying, laughing). Many men feel something is wrong if she's doing it, but it's actually a good sign. It means she feels deeply safe and loved by you, so her subconscious allows for the deeper healing.

5. She feels comfortable talking about sex (what she enjoyed, how she wants you to do things and about her fantasies). All of it means she feels safe with you and that you are the right man to share and play these fantasies out with

6. She starts experimenting. This is similar to the point before: she feels comfortable and intimate with you which makes her want to explore even more. She may start buying sexy outfits or toys, suggesting new positions, or other more courageous idea (like visiting a sex club).

7. She feels comfortable talking about sex (what she enjoyed, how she wants you to do things and about her fantasies). All of it means she feels safe with you and that you are the right man to share and play these fantasies out with Remember, none of these signs on its own means she is satisfied. This is important. Look out for all of them and the more she shows - the happier she is with you in bed.

So how did you do? Is your woman truly and fully satisfied in bed with you?

If so - congratulations!

If not - let me share something with you...
